Dear SC ASTA

Welcome to our first SC ASTA Conference. The line-up of clinicians and sessions look amazing. I hope that you will come and join us on this one-day conference. The conference has something for everyone. Public school and private studio sessions, to all levels of small chamber music information as well as large orchestra information and our Alternative Styles reading session, with rhythm section.

Bring your instrument.

We also have a number of exhibitors. Please let's support our local and national exhibitors who are here to support string arts education.

This conference is also our chance to advocate for keeping string education in our schools. We have invited the candidates who are running for SC Superintendent of Education to speak to us about their platform.

Sincerely

Theresa Jenkins-Russ

2010 Conference Highlights

Advocacy:

Keeping Arts Education, especially string music education in our schools and in our communities. Let's support each other.

Finding Appropriate Music for Mixed-Level Ensembles

Chamber Music is in essence the great meeting place between the soloist and ensemble player.

Alternative Styles Reading Session:

Bring your instrument and jam.
W. Rhythm Section.

String Bass Session:

Learn how to teach and play the bass, teach shifting, thumb position, when to begin teaching tenor clef, how to properly set up the bass from a standing position as well as a sitting position. Learn some cool jazz "licks" to show your students.

Developing Musical Independence in Young Players.

This session examines the role of rounds, canons, chamber music, orchestra contrapuntal textures, and solo literature in the development of "self-reliance" among young string players.

Around the World w. Stringed Instruments
We will all learn about stringed Instrument education in Italy, Brazil and South Africa.

Playable Chamber Music for Middle School Students

Come on up and let's play and learn. Bring Your Instruments.

The Enlightened Teacher: A Guide to Improving Your Effectiveness as a Studio Teacher.

This session will explore aspects of our teaching that we might consider in order to address our weaknesses and help to increase our effectiveness.

Shifting, Vibrato, Key Signatures, Oh My!!
Helping to make technique fun in the middle school classroom.

Unleashing The Power of Sound Innovations

Alfred's revolutionary new method for band and strings creates choices that teachers have always dreamed about. Learn how to customize the techniques, contents and materials in your method book, CD and Smart Music.

Representatives and Exhibitors from Hal Leonard, Latham Music, Alfred Publishing, JW Pepper, Bernhardt House of Violins, Musical Innovations, and Music & Art Stores will be on hand.

And much, much more!!
